DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4-11 and 13 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Marcade-5,683,449.

As to claims 1-2 and 4-11, Marcade (Fig. 2, for example; col. 13, lines 53-57; col. 18, lines 47-54) discloses bifurcated stent-graft having stents 154 of nitinol, graft 110/112/116, barbs/hooks 156 in caudal direction. Marcade (col. 13, lines 53-57) teaches using sutures or barbs to secure two graft-stent components together. Inherently, the barbs will extend through holes in the graft to secure two stent-graft components together. Notice that the holes in the graft must be prefabricated before withdrawing the delivery catheter which deliver the stent-graft device to a location in a blood vessel.

Alternatively, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide prefabricated holes in the graft for the barbs to extend through both stent-graft components to secure both the stent-graft components together.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 12, 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marcade-5,683,449.

Marcade discloses substantially the claimed invention, except for the fuzzy tufts of yarn at a junction between two stent-graft components, a biocompatible elastomer coating on the graft(s) and a weave pattern of the graft(s) to provide strength. However, these claimed features are well known in the art and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Marcade device to have the claimed features so as to make Marcade device available to other common uses of the device.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 1/10/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Since both the final products of the present invention and Marcade-5,683,449 have holes in the graft, the device of the present invention is not patentable over the device of Marcade-5,683,449.
